My Stone Collection

Hosted by: Sjang Niederwieser

Project Information (EN)

An unique collection inspired by nature

As kids, my brother and I always collected stones when hiking in the mountains in my grandparent’s hometown in Austria. It was always a competition who could find the biggest and coolest looking ones and take them home as a memory. Nowadays, I question whether it is okay to take these stones from nature. Because for me, it doesn't feel right. Therefore I decided to use modern techniques to recreate the stones, instead of taking them from nature. The stones are 3D-scanned and sculpted into functional pieces of art. By giving them a function, they obtain a tangible value instead of only the memory of that place and time, which has merely value to me. The stones are 3D-printed from sand. I see sand as the offcut from nature’s sculpting and I bring it back into a shape where it could come from. The stones are preserved in a digital database and 3D-printed in a limited edition collection. ~The objects almost feel otherworldly. It is a memory from another place and time.~

Projectinformatie (NL)

An unique collection inspired by nature

As kids, my brother and I always collected stones when hiking in the mountains in my grandparent’s hometown in Austria. It was always a competition who could find the biggest and coolest looking ones and take them home as a memory. Nowadays, I question whether it is okay to take these stones from nature. Because for me, it doesn't feel right. Therefore I decided to use modern techniques to recreate the stones, instead of taking them from nature. The stones are 3D-scanned and sculpted into functional pieces of art. By giving them a function, they obtain a tangible value instead of only the memory of that place and time, which has merely value to me. The stones are 3D-printed from sand. I see sand as the offcut from nature’s sculpting and I bring it back into a shape where it could come from. The stones are preserved in a digital database and 3D-printed in a limited edition collection. ~The objects almost feel otherworldly. It is a memory from another place and time.~

Image List

Filename	Caption	Credit
sjangniederwieser-my-stone-collection-1-srgb-ddw_1693912823.jpg
sjangniederwieser-my-stone-collection-6-srgb-ddw_1693912904.jpg
sjangniederwieser-my-stone-collection-16-srgb-ddw_1693912837.jpg
sjangniederwieser-my-stone-collection-17-srgb-ddw_1693912843.jpg
sjangniederwieser-my-stone-collection-7-srgb-ddw_1693912910.jpg

The images above are included in the ZIP under `/images`.