Project Information (EN)

Living with anxiety

Once the anxiety became visually understandable , many surprisingly expressed a lot of empathy and consideration . With this unexpected response , I do not only realize the compassion of others but also that anxiety is a feeling shared by many . I decided to share and also deliver empathy to others by translating selected drawings into tangible and tactile interior pieces . Living with Anxiety is a collection of textile objects scaled up from drawings hopes to assist people face and rethink their anxiety to overcome it .
