

(Re)Valued - Rethinking Sustainable Design

Hosted by: VanBerlo

Project Information (EN)

Rethinking materials, products and experiences includes more than just minimizing footprint and waste. It's about becoming aware of the value we attribute to products and how this changes over time. Whether functional, economic, emotional or symbolic; value is at the core of sustainable design. With this exposition we explore and discuss the (in)tangible value of things through the work of talented designers. Join us at the Innovation Powerhouse to create positive impact by design together. Participants of our exposition (free entrance): TU/Delft: Mart Drummen - Everbrush TU/Delft: Jerry de Vos - Plastic Scanner TU/Delft: Renske van de Berge/Sagar Dengal - Consumer Value in Design ONZE fabriek - LAT Table VanBerlo - Towards circular smart meters ----- DARE TO SHARE! (by registration only) During this special DDW event students and designers can shine, learn, laugh, drink, discuss the meanings and matters of great designs. Keep an eye on our website in the upcoming weeks for further information. <https://vanberloagency.com/job/call-for-creativity/> During this event you get to know VanBerlo and we want to know you as well. (Take your portfolio with you.)
