

The kids are playing around the pool

A series of interactive objects, installations, and architectural interventions turn an exhibition into a playground.
Een reeks interactieve objecten, installaties en architecturale interventies maken van een expositie een speelplaats.

Hosted by: Isola

Project Information (EN)

The kids are playing around the pool

Isola is bringing the work of Eindhoven-based designers Alexandre Varnier, Thanos Paspaliaris, and Erik Campanini to Burgers. Children can make drawings of chairs and see the chairs already made by Thanos Paspaliaris based on children's drawings. One of the drawings will be made during the week as a live act. Climbing on the furniture by Alexandre Varnier, adults can release their inner child. In the "Mobile No Puppets Theater" by Erik Campanini, which has no puppets or puppeteers, the viewer interacts directly with the mechanism of the objects by activating the story.

Burgers

Burgers is a hidden gem in Eindhoven, hosting independent creatives in their studios, a vintage clothing store, a second-hand bookstore, and an event space where it's all about connecting, coming together, making food, making music, and enjoying this all together. Visitors can experience the designer's work and join a jam session. Some of the creatives at Burgers will open their studio during DDW22. Open studio's: 9Lives, Antwan van der Kerkhof, Books 4 Life, Huiskamer, Las Erop, Martin Voorbij, Peli Design, Studio Aldrik, Studio Hertogstaat, Studio Snahter.

Designer Statement

On the Eleven of August 1990, Ilse, Inge, Monica, Mira, Rens, Walter, Edwin, Odette, Richard, Eveline, Chris, Robert, Hein, and Heidi entered two by two at Hertogstraat 2 later, Bart and Paul climbed the building to open the back door. They had to stay quiet that night. In the morning, they called the police to officialize their stay in the empty building. The tenants begin to pay the rent to themselves to provide the money for the renovation of the place. In 1992 after 2 years and 3 months, they were able to buy the building. The Burgers is a community in Eindhoven that guarantees a place for creativity, social discussion, and the exchange of ideas. Through interactive objects, installations, and architectural interventions, we want to open a dialog with this place and its inhabitants by investigating the potentiality of community building and playgrounds in living places. We see a place that transforms through our comprehension of practice, space, individuality, and society. We are playing around the pool, speculating, and traveling on its border, Trying to challenge our perception of risk, engagement, and work. Alexandre Varnier, Thanos Paspaliaris, and Erik Campanini

Projectinformatie (NL)

Burgers

Isola haalt het werk van de Eindhovense ontwerpers Alexandre Varnier, Thanos Paspaliaris en Erik Campanini naar Burgers. Kinderen kunnen tekeningen maken van stoelen en de stoelen bekijken die Thanos Paspaliaris al heeft gemaakt op basis van kindertekeningen. Een van de tekeningen zal in de loop van de week als live act gemaakt worden. Klimmend op de meubels van Alexandre Varnier kunnen volwassenen hun innerlijke kind loslaten. In het "Mobile No Puppets Theatre" van Erik Campanini, dat geen poppen of poppenspelers heeft, speelt de kijker rechtstreeks met het mechanisme van de objecten door het verhaal te activeren.

Burgers

Burgers is een verborgen juweel in Eindhoven, met vormgevers in hun studio's, een vintage kledingwinkel, een tweedehands boekwinkel en een evenementen ruimte waar het allemaal draait om verbinden, samenkomen, eten, muziek maken en hier samen van genieten. Bezoekers kunnen het werk van de ontwerpers ervaren en deelnemen aan een jamsessie. Een deel van de ateliers van Burgers opent tijdens DDW22 hun studio. Open studio's: 9Lives, Antwan van der Kerkhof, Books 4 Life, Huiskamer, Las Erop, Martin Voorbij, Peli Design, Studio Aldrik, Studio Hertogstaat, Studio Snahter.

Designer Statement

On the Eleven of August 1990, Ilse, Inge, Monica, Mira, Rens, Walter, Edwin, Odette, Richard, Eveline, Chris, Robert, Hein, and Heidi entered two by two at Hertogstraat 2 later, Bart and Paul climbed the building to open the back door. They had to stay quiet that night. In the morning, they called the police to officialize their stay in the empty building. The tenants begin to pay the rent to themselves to provide the money for the renovation of the place. In 1992 after 2 years and 3 months, they were able to buy the building. The Burgers is a community in Eindhoven that guarantees a place for creativity, social discussion, and the exchange of ideas. Through interactive objects, installations, and architectural interventions, we want to open a dialog with this place and its inhabitants by investigating the potentiality of community building and playgrounds in living places. We see a place that transforms through our comprehension of practice, space, individuality, and society. We are playing around the pool, speculating, and traveling on its border, Trying to challenge our perception of risk, engagement, and work. Alexandre Varnier, Thanos Paspaliaris, and Erik Campanini

Image List

Filename	Caption	Credit
graphic-content_1665121893.jpeg

The images above are included in the ZIP under /images.