

Burgundian butchered

De (on)genode gast/ The (un)invited guest
De (on)genode gast/ The (un)invited guest

Hosted by: Launa Visser

Project Information (EN)

Imagine this scene; a group of friends is catching up over a drink on a Saturday night. The table is covered with snacks like bread, spreads, chips, dips, olives, vegetables, cheese and meat. People are stuffing themselves with animal based products, whilst the horror behind the production of those products are forgotten and the events of the meat industry are discreetly continuing. While this heartwarming gathering is taking place, thousands of animals are slaughtered at the same time, every second. These animals suffer because some of us make the decision to have a slice of sausage to accompany the drink. With this project I want to confront people with the duality of these everyday events, to create awareness about the meat industry and the suffering that comes with it. You can enjoy your glass of red wine, it doesn't have to be enjoyed with something that leaves blood on your hands.

Image List

Filename	Caption	Credit
botten-2_1663853509.jpg	Burgundian butchered set	Launa Visser
burgundian-butchered_1663853524.jpg	Burgundian butchered wine decanter

The images above are included in the ZIP under /images.