

Echoes

Hosted by: Studio Corradino Garofalo

Project Information (EN)

~

At the heart of the showcase are fragments of the designer's reminiscences that touch on past and present interpersonal relations. The exhibition is a testament to the allure of these collected resources, celebrating their transformation into design pieces as tangible echoes. Emerging from the studio's atmosphere, the displayed collection embodies the designer's commitment to the stories treasured within these materials. Just as an echo completes a sound wave, the exhibition brings the loop to a close by inviting viewers to reflect on the inherent significance of materials, origins and continuation.

Projectinformatie (NL)

~

At the heart of the showcase are fragments of the designer's reminiscences that touch on past and present interpersonal relations. The exhibition is a testament to the allure of these collected resources, celebrating their transformation into design pieces as tangible echoes. Emerging from the studio's atmosphere, the displayed collection embodies the designer's commitment to the stories treasured within these materials. Just as an echo completes a sound wave, the exhibition brings the loop to a close by inviting viewers to reflect on the inherent significance of materials, origins and continuation.

Image List

Filename	Caption	Credit
nd7-0251-post-ready-for-uploading-on-ddw-website-resized_1693041599.jpg		picture by Corradino Garofalo

The images above are included in the ZIP under /images.