Designing a place of significant life events Design Talk door Srdjan Jovicic, 13.30 en 15.00 uur in het Philips Museum

Hosted by: Philips Museum and Philips Experience Design

Project Information (EN)

Hospitals are places where lives are born, saved and at times where life ends. In order to design a meaningful public service, one has to develop a deep understanding of the character of a place, its identity, desires and beliefs of its people. Philips Ex

Projectinformatie (NL)

Ziekenhuizen zijn plaatsen waar levens worden geboren en gered en soms eindigen. Om hiervoor een betekenisvolle ruimte te creëren is diepgaand begrip nodig is van het karakter van een plaats, en de verlangens en overtuigingen van de mensen. Philips Experi
