

Pomace

Learning Circularity from Olive

Van Olijven Over Circulariteit Leren

Hosted by: Random Works

Project Information (EN)

What can we learn about circular design thinking from existing everyday practices? Some vernacular means of production can provide us with inspiring examples. Project Pomace explores the local olive cultivation culture in Karaburun, Turkey to understand t

Projectinformatie (NL)

Wat kunnen we leren van circulair ontwerpen in de dagelijkse praktijk? Het project verkent de lokale olijventeeltcultuur in Karaburun in Turkije om de inherente karakteristieken vast te leggen die het proces tot een uniek circulair model maken. Het leren

Image List

| Filename                              | Caption                                           | Credit |
|---------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------|--------|
| 11_1599787123.png                     | Wickerwork with Pomastic                          |        |
| 00_1599787291.png                     | 3D molding with Pomastic                          |        |
| 22_1599787291.png                     | Pattern designs with Pomastic                     |        |
| 3dprinting-pomace_1599787291.jpg      | Bio-based 3D printing with olive pomace           |        |
| the-olive-cycle-00-web_1600109371.jpg | The circular journey of olive and its by-products |        |

The images above are included in the ZIP under /images.