About Ripples

The Ripples collection plays with perception and reflection in a way that challenges the viewer’s understanding of space. It creates a fantastic feeling of visual magic.

The designer started from the characteristics of "changing" – including the change of vision, surface, color, etc., and developed tray with new value, which is suitable for home and outdoor. The inspiration comes from the fun of visual angle, space folding and color change itself.

Color is a key factor in Ripples – it has the power to evoke emotions and transform living spaces. Designer show the surprise and interactivity of Ripples via color. The collection use an experimental approach to explore the unpredictable feeling of color and visual presentation.
